HISTORY.

The Institution was founded in the year 1848, by the Baptists of Eastern North Carolina and Virginia, for the purpose of providing for themselves and their friends a first-class school, possessing all the appliances necessary for imparting to their daughters a thorough and liberal education. They accordingly erected a large and beautiful brick building four stories high, and furnished it with an elegance and liberality which enabled it at once to take rank with the best female schools in the country, North or South. This rank it still maintains, and after a successful course of thirty-four years, during which time it has graduated over two hundred young ladies and contributed to the education of a much larger number, it is still the exclusive and unincumbered property of the Baptist Denomination. As it has passed the period of contingency, during which nearly all institutions have to struggle for existence, and many fail, those who hold diplomas from this Institution, and those who are seeking to obtain them, need entertain no doubt of the continued existence and permanent prosperity of their Alma Mater. It is the settled purpose of the friends and founders of the Institution, not only that it shall continue, but that it shall be kept fully up with the increasing demands of the age for higher education.

The Institute owns property consisting of grounds, buildings, furniture, apparatus, &c., valued at from $40,000 to $50,000. It is proposed to increase this endowment by raising, as soon as possible, a permanent fund of at least one hundred thousand dollars.

LOCATION.

The location is eminently appropriate, embracing a tract of twenty-eight acres, adjacent to the town. It secures the important advantages of privacy, and affords ample means of exercise and recreation within its own enclosure.

A fine lawn of six acres immediately in front of the collegiate edifice, laid out in walks and ornamented with shrubbery and flowers, adds greatly to the attractiveness of the place, and affords at the same time inducements to out-door exercise and means for botanical pursuits.

HEALTH.

This location was selected in preference to several others in some respects more eligible, on account of its celebrity for health ; and the history of the school for more than thirty years fully sustains the previous reputation of the place. Its annual health record since its foundation shows an average in medical bills of 25 cents per pupil—a record that challenges comparison with that of any similar school in the United States. No location, however, can insure permanent good health to those who disregard the essential means of promoting it. As cultivation of mind without health of body would be comparatively valueless, special means are provided, and special pains are taken to preserve the health and promote the physical development of pupils by furnishing them a plentiful supply of nutritious and well cooked food, served at proper intervals, by insuring to them sufficient time for undisturbed and refreshing sleep, and by requiring them to take active and appropriate exercise. The last is deemed essential to the success of the first two, as exercise sharpens the appetite and promotes the digestion and assimilation of food, renders sleep sweet and refreshing, and secures erectness of form and grace of movement, as well as firmness and vigor in bone and muscle. Hence, all boarding pupils are required to exercise daily in calisthenics under the supervision of a judicious and well qualified teacher. If, however, any parent really wishes his daughter excused from this important part of school discipline, his wishes are respected, if made known to the President at the time the pupil is entered.

GOVERNMENT.

The government is mild and parental. It is regarded as of primary importance that pupils be induced to act from principle. Hence kind appeals to reason and to conscience are mainly relied on to induce diligence and to enforce duty.

Pupils from abroad are not permitted to make visits or receive them, except from relations, or friends from their own neighborhoods. Boarding pupils never leave the Institute premises, except when attended by an officer of the Institution or near relative.

No young lady is permitted to open an account with a merchant, without permission from her parent or guardian.

Costly dressing, and the useless expenditure of money, are discouraged. The clothing of young ladies must be legibly marked.

Every pupil on application for admission is examined on her previous acquirements, and is placed in such studies as the Board of Instruction deems best for her, due regard being had for the special wishes of her parent. Ornamental branches are taken only with the explicit consent of parent or guardian.

When a young lady has been placed in a certain routine of study, she is not permitted to change her studies except for sufficient reasons.

It is very important that pupils enter at the beginning of the session, as classes will then be formed and new studies commenced. An absence of a few weeks frequently renders it impossible for a young lady to regain her position in her class. To encourage prompt attendance, no deduction is made for loss of time, while a young lady retains her position in her class.

New pupils are received at any time when we have room for their accommodation, and, after the first two weeks of the session, charged only from time of entering.

SESSIONS AND VACATION.

The scholastic year is divided into two terms, thus:

Fall Term beginning first Wednesday in October and ending the 14th day of February following. Spring Term beginning the 15th day of February and ending with the Annual Commencement, the last Wednesday in June.

Vacation extends from last Wednesday in June to first Wednesday in October. The length of this vacation renders all others unnecessary, and hence there is only one day's suspension at Christmas.

LECTURES.

A Lecture on some literary or scientific subject is delivered to the whole school, on Friday evening of each week. Thus a wide range is given to the course of instruction, and much important information imparted on subjects, which, for want of time, cannot be included in the course of study for the class-room. The lecture is usually supplemented by instrumental and vocal music, by pupils of the Music School, or by Elocutionary Exercises. These exercises are open to the public, under such restrictions as are necessary to insure proper decorum.

Thus an important advantage is secured to the Music and Elocutionary Departments by stimulating pupils to accurate practice, and accustoming them to self control in the presence of others.

APPARATUS.

The institution is furnished with a very complete and superior set of Philosophical, Chemical, and Astronomical Apparatus for the practical illustration of the principles of those sciences.

LIBRARY, READING ROOM, AND CABINET.

The Institute is furnished with a small, select Library, a Cabinet of Natural and Artificial curiosities, and a Reading Room supplied with suitable periodical literature.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Regarding the proper development and direction of the moral faculties as of paramount importance in the training of youth, the founders of the Institution incorporated into its system of instruction and discipline the Christian religion as a prominent and permanent feature; but the Faculty use no argument or persuasion to bias the minds or influence the choice of pupils in religious matters. All pupils are required to attend morning and evening prayers in the Chapel, and public worship on Sunday.

INSTRUCTION.

The course of instruction is divided into three departments:

- I. Preparatory.
- II. Collegiate.
- III. Ornamental.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

In this Department it is proposed to prepare young ladies for the Collegiate course. Instruction is given in Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, History, Latin, Penmanship, Reading, Spelling, and Map-Drawing.

FIRST YEAR.

1. Moore's History of North Carolina and Maury's Manual of Geography.
2. Reed and Kellogg's Graded Lessons in English.
3. Sanford's Intermediate and Common School Arithmetics.
4. Holmes' Fourth Reader.

SECOND YEAR.

1. Barnes' History of United States, and Holmes' Fifth Reader.
2. Sanford's Common School Arithmetic.
3. Reed & Kellogg's Higher Lessons in English.
4. Bingham's Latin Grammar to Syntax, and Latin Reader.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

This Department is divided into six Schools :

- I. Mathematics.
- II. Latin.
- III. French.
- IV. Natural Sciences.
- V. Moral Philosophy.
- VI. English Literature.

I. Mathematics.

To pursue successfully the studies of this School, a pupil must be proficient in Practical Arithmetic. She is required to stand daily and quarterly examinations on the text-books, and on original exercises involving the principles explained in the text.

1. Sanford's Higher Arithmetic.
2. Sanford's and Wentworth's Algebras.
3. Loomis' Geometry and Trigonometry.

II. Latin.

To enter this School a thorough knowledge of Bingham's Latin Grammar to Syntax, or its equivalent, together with the Reader, is required.

To enter any class, mere facility in translating is not sufficient: evidence of thorough knowledge in forms and constructions is demanded.

Written exercises are made prominent throughout the whole course. Mythology and Roman History are studied during the second and third years.

1. Cæsar; Ovid; Bingham's Grammar completed.
2. Virgil's Æneid; Cicero's Oration; Jones' Prose Composition; Gildersleeve's Grammar; Mythology.

3. Horace; Gildersleeve's Grammar; Jones' Prose Composition and original written exercises: Roman History.

III. French.

Beginners in French are admitted to this School. Written exercises are required throughout the course. The higher classes write original compositions, and converse in French at the table, under the direction of the instructor.

To enter advanced classes evidence of proficiency in lower classes must be furnished.

1. Magill's First Lessons in French; Telemaque.
2. Magill's Grammar; Rochelle; Picciola; Racine.
3. Magill's Grammar; Corinne; French Literature.

IV. Natural Science.

In this School the branches taught are Physical Geography, Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy and Natural History.

To pursue the studies in this School successfully, the student should be familiar with the principles of Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry. Instruction is given by text-books, lectures, and experiments.

1. Maury's Physical Geography.
2. Youman's Chemistry; Steele's Astronomy.
3. Avery's Physics; Gray's Botany.
4. Steele's Zoology; Steele's Geology; Steele's Physiology.

V. Moral Philosophy.

1. Mental Science, Wayland; Moral Science, Dagg.
2. Political Economy.
3. History, Smith's England, Swinton's General.

The student prepares a written abstract of each topic discussed, and without interruption recites the text on the basis of the abstract. Questions and familiar lectures by instructor.

VI. English Language and Literature.

1. Composition and Rhetoric, Hill; Exercises in Composition.
2. English Literature, Backers' Shaw. Recitation of text. Essays on Literary topics. Critical readings from English classics. Lectures.
3. Ancient Literature, Quackenbos.
4. Elocution.

GRADUATION.

To secure a diploma of full graduation, the following curriculum, or its equivalent, is required :

FIRST CLASS.

1. History of England; Holmes' Sixth Reader.
2. Sanford's Higher Arithmetic.
3. Latin Grammar; Cæsar; Ovid.
4. Magill's First Lessons in French; Telemaque.

SECOND CLASS.

1. Elocution; General History.
2. Algebra.
3. Gildersleeve's Grammar; Virgil; Cicero.
4. Magill's French Grammar; Rochelle; Picciola; Racine.

JUNIOR CLASS.

1. French Grammar; Corinne; French Literature.
2. Geometry and Trigonometry.
3. Horace; Latin Grammar; Rhetoric.
4. Chemistry; Astronomy.

SENIOR CLASS.

1. Mental Philosophy; Moral Science.
2. Physics; Botany.
3. English Literature and Critical Readings.
4. Zoology, Geology, and Physiology.

While the regular course is earnestly recommended for all, any young lady may secure an English diploma by completing the following course:

FIRST YEAR.

1. History of England; Holmes' Sixth Reader.
2. Sanford's Higher Arithmetic.
3. Political Economy; Familiar Science.
4. Physical Geography.

SECOND YEAR.

1. Elocution; General History.
2. Algebra.
3. Ancient Literature; Rhetoric.
4. Chemistry; Astronomy.
5. Zoology, Geology, and Physiology.

THIRD YEAR.

1. Mental Philosophy; Moral Philosophy.
2. English Literature and Critical Readings.
3. Physics; Botany.

REMARKS ON COURSE OF STUDY.

1. The Junior and Senior classes have Spelling and Elocution, and all other classes Spelling and Mental Arithmetic, three times a week.
2. Instruction in the Preparatory Department is given by the regular teachers in the Collegiate course, thus securing for all classes the same grade of instruction.
3. The programme is arranged for pupils to have four recitations a day in either course, thus giving each full work, but not overtaxing the ability of any.
4. In making out reports, the daily and examination (written,) grades count each one half. When a grade falls below $66\frac{2}{3}$, 100 being the maximum, the pupil is required to make up the deficiency or review before she can graduate. Merely going over a course does not secure a diploma. If, however, a pupil's grade is less than $66\frac{2}{3}$, she may complete the whole course with her class without graduation.
5. While the course of instruction in Latin, Mathematics, Natural Science, and Moral Philosophy, will not be so extensive as in our male colleges, the standard of scholarship will be quite as high. In French and English Literature, the course will be as extensive and thorough, and the standard of scholarship as high as in any of our colleges. Changes will be made only after careful consideration. To stimulate pupils to greater efforts, it is proposed to arrange for an exchange of examination papers with other institutions of high grade of scholarship.
6. Young ladies desiring to do so, may take German instead of French.

REPORTS.

At the expiration of each quarter, printed reports are addressed to the parent or guardian, showing the merits and demerits of the pupil as exhibited in her general deportment, attention to studies and standing in her several classes. The object of these reports is to incite to constant diligence and faithfulness in the discharge of every duty. The success of these reports depends upon the manner in which they are received at home. Parents and guardians are, therefore, earnestly requested to examine them carefully and give the admonitions and encouragements they suggest. By this means they render the Faculty essential aid in the discharge of their responsible duties.

GOLDEN REPORTS.

When a pupil is absent from no recitation, is perfect in deportment, and makes an average of 90 on her studies, she receives a golden report.

If a pupil is kept from recitations by sickness, but is perfect in deportment, and makes an average of 90 on her examinations, she receives a golden report.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

Music, instrumental and vocal, will be taught by the best teachers that can be procured. For several years past the department has been under the direction of Mrs. S. J. MYRICK, a refined and cultivated lady, who has taken unusual pains, under the tuition of the best masters, to qualify herself for teaching; and having taught many years in the Institution, she is well known to its patrons as the most popular and successful teacher ever connected with the school. Under her direction the department has acquired unusual popularity and efficiency. Her associates are ladies also of experience and superior qualifications.

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS.

This department is under the direction of a lady of experience and ability. It is justly popular, and presents superior advantages to those who wish to cultivate their taste for the Fine Arts.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

This department receives the personal attention of the President and his lady. The table is plentifully supplied with first-class provisions, served under the supervision of a lady of experience, who thoroughly understands her business.

REMARKS.

1. To those parents who seek mainly the opportunities for successful study, in sending their daughters from home, this Institution offers some important advantages.

2. Located in a quiet village, two hours' ride from the nearest railroad station, it is rarely visited by circuses, minstrel troupes, traveling lecturers and other profitless annoyances, which are a growing nuisance on public highways and at their converging centres.

3. We will be glad to have parents and guardians visit the school at any time and learn, from the teachers and their own observations in the recitation room, how their daughters and wards are progressing.

4. The school consists almost entirely of boarding pupils. Classes are not, therefore, retarded by absence on account of inclement weather, as is necessarily the case where there is a large admixture of day pupils.

5. Parents should write to the President himself and not to their daughters in regard to desired changes in studies, health, permission to visit, or other special privileges. The reasons for this requirement are obvious.

6. It is earnestly hoped that parents will not allow their daughters to leave the Institute during Christmas. Besides the loss of time, serious damage to health frequently results from leaving a heated building at this season of the year.

7. There is no extra charge for languages in regular course, or for calisthenics. Pupils having two studies in the collegiate course are charged the tuition of that department.

8. When desirable, we endeavor to secure situations for young ladies who have been pupils in the Institution, and whose attainments and deportment are satisfactory.

Letters for young ladies should be addressed :

Miss

C. B. F. Institute,
Murfreesboro, N. C.

DIRECTIONS,

FOR SENDING MONEY.

Money should be sent by Draft, Check, Registered Letter, or Post Office Order. Post Office Orders should be made payable in Norfolk or Baltimore.

FOR REACHING MURFREESBORO.

Those coming by Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad will find hacks at Boykin's Depot, on arrival of trains from Weldon and from Portsmouth. A steamer runs from Franklin, Va., to Murfreesboro, two or three times a week.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

By a special arrangement with Capt. J. H. Bogart, Superintendent A. S. N. Co., a steamer will leave Franklin, Va., on Tuesday, October 4, (the day before the exercises at the Institute begin,) after the arrival of the trains from Weldon and from Portsmouth. Parties coming on that day can have their baggage checked through to Murfreesboro, and will avoid the necessity of coming by hacks. Some member of the Faculty will meet young ladies on that day at Franklin. Fare from Weldon to Murfreesboro, $2.50; from Portsmouth to Murfreesboro, $2.

PROHIBITIONS.

1. Tardiness for more than two minutes in answering bells.
2. Boisterous talking, laughing, romping, screaming or slamming doors at any time in any part of the building.
3. Injuring Institute property, including shrubbery and flowers on the lawn.
4. Opening the desks of others or using their property.
5. Using musical instruments except in the discharge of duty, or leaving them open.
6. Changing seats, chewing and misusing time during study and practice hours.

7. Opening books, inattention and intercommunication during recitation.
8. Disrespect to teachers and interruptions of recitations.
9. Leaving Institute premises unless permitted by the President or accompanied by an officer.
10. Visiting parlor, dining-room and kitchen except on business.
11. Receiving visits except from relations and near neighbors, and elsewhere than in parlor or study.
12. Joining visitors on the lawn.
13. All correspondence except through regular Institute mail.
14. Use other than non-spilling ink stands elsewhere than on desks.
15. Selling clothing except with permission of matron.
16. Absence from church on Sunday, and improprieties during Divine service in church or chapel.
17. Leaving school-room during study hours without permission.
18. Throwing articles from windows or paper about the premises.
19. Sitting on desks or ground or any unlady-like conduct.
